Day 7: Understanding the Principle

“He sent His word and healed them, And delivered them from their destructions.”

Psalm 107:20

Your words are building blocks of which you construct your life and future. Your words set the cornerstones of your life, and you live within the confines of that boundary you create with your own words. Situations, circumstances and conditions are all subject to change, but with the support of your words you can establish them in your life forever.

Let's look at the principle that could be the key to you being a partaker of God's provisions concerning your healing. There is probably no other subject as important to your healing and health than the principle of CALLING THINGS THAT ARE NOT!

Romans 4:17-22 reveals that Abraham became fully persuaded that God would do what He had promised. The way he became fully persuaded was by calling those things which were not manifest as though they were.

“(As it is written, I have made thee a father of many nations,) before him whom he believed, even God, who quickeneth the dead, and calleth those things which be not as though they were.”

Romans 4:17

God changed Abram's name to Abraham, which meant "father of nations, or multitude." This was the means He used to convince Abraham to call for what he did not yet have in reality. God had established it by promise, but Abram had to call it into reality by mixing faith with God's Word. Every time he said, "I am Abraham," he was calling things that were not yet manifest. Abraham did not deny that he was old. He didn't go around saying, "I'm not old," because he was old. But he said, "I am Abraham," (Father of Nations). This was God's method of helping him change his image, and it caused him to be fully persuaded.

When you have a headache, you might want to say, “I am healed of this headache.” Instead of agreeing with the headache, you call that which you want to see even when you don't see it. To call the healing or the solution before it happens, for it to happen!
